RE: THE CO EVOLUTION QUARTERLY, VOL. -----,
NO. 4, December 21, 1974

Sirs:

Copyright registration for the work(s) named above has been made, and we are mailing the certificate(s) separately.

The copyright notice on the deposit copies is not exactly in the right form. For this type of material the law requires that the three elements of the notice appear together. The name of the copyright owner and the year date should accompany the word "Copyright," the abbreviation "Copr.," or the symbol ©. Example:

© John Doe 1972

Even though the three elements of the notice do not appear together, the Copyright Office has made registration in accordance with its practice of resolving doubtful cases in favor of the applicant. In future publications, however, you should be careful to see that the notice is in the correct form.

Sincerely yours,
